AI Overview

Shawarma is a Middle Eastern dish of meat (lamb, chicken, or beef) slow-cooked on a vertical rotisserie, sliced, and typically served in pita bread with various toppings. It's a popular street food throughout the Middle East and has become increasingly popular in other parts of the world. The word "shawarma" comes from the Turkish word "çevirme," meaning "to turn," referring to the rotating spit.

Here's a more detailed breakdown:

Preparation:

Shawarma meat is marinated in spices and layered on a vertical spit, which rotates in
